++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Damp start in south, otherwise sunshine, showers mainly in west.

Today:
Cloudy skies and patchy rain will linger over southern Scotland this morning. Otherwise a much brighter day with scattered showers, mostly over north and west Scotland. Brisk southwesterly winds.

Tonight:
South and east Scotland will be dry with clear periods. Scattered showers will continue in the north and along the west coast. A colder night with a westerly breeze.

Wednesday:
Many places will have a dry day with some sunshine, just a few light showers in north and west. Cool once again with southwest winds becoming strong over northern Scotland.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Mainly dry, bright Thursday with lighter winds. A band of heavier rain will cross Scotland Thursday night and Friday along with strong southerly winds. Drier, brighter conditions returning on Saturday.
